Arkansas Department Of Correction

Vision Statement: To be an honorable and professional organization through ethical and innovative leadership at all levels, providing cost efficient, superior correctional services that return productive people to the community.

Honor and Integrity in Public Service

Director's Message:

FY2012 saw a dramatic decline in Arkansas' prison population. At the close of the fiscal year, state prisons had a total population of 14,805 which is a decline of 1,726 inmates from the record high of 16,531 in November 2010. While better utilization of probation contributed to the sharp decline, it is anticipated that sentencing reforms set forth in Act 570 of 2011 will help sustain declines and save the state of Arkansas as much as $875 million in prison construction and operating costs over the next ten years. The Department of Correction realigned its operations in FY12 with the shuttering of the Diagnostic Unit. The agency did not have the funding to operate DU and open its state-of-the-art Special Needs Unit at the Ouachita River Correctional Unit in Malvern. The Board of Corrections made the decision in November to open the SNU, which is the first of its kind in the country. ADC is proud of this new facility and the opportunities it affords the agency. As Director, I am proud of staff we have in place agency-wide and our achievements to date reflect a readiness by ADC personnel to continue to move forward and provide the citizens of Arkansas with the best correctional system possible. It is on behalf of this staff that I extend a collective thank you for the support this agency has received from the governor, the General Assembly and the Board of Corrections.

Sincerely,

Ray Hobbs

The Mission Statement of the Arkansas Department of Correction is to:

- Provide public safety
  by carrying out the mandates of the courts;
- Provide a safe, humane environment for staff and inmates;
- Provide programs to strengthen the work ethic;
- Provide opportunities for spiritual, mental, and physical growth.

Governor - Mike Beebe

special needs facility in January at the Ouachita River Correctional Unit in Malvern. The Board of Corrections approved the move of 400-plus beds from the Diagnostic Unit in Pine Bluff to Malvern.

The move resulted in the temporary closing of the Pine Bluff Diagnostic facility. ADC does not have the funds to operate both facilities, so the decision was made to utilize the new space at ORCU. The longtime goal for the unit in Pine Bluff is to renovate and reopen it at a later date. Male intake, sheltered living, special programs and permanent bed assignments moved to Malvern. programs, have had Also, sheltered living beds and special management beds from the a profound impact on Randall Williams facility were moved, bringing the total number of inmates and staff, inmates moved to more than 400. The special needs unit had thus been under construction since 2006. The addition will house 744 security and the quality of life inside the institutions. inmates and include a 72-bed hospital and 40-bed special services area. With the opening of the new addition, ORCU houses a total of 1,690 inmates.

ADC horse auction gallops to successful finish

Eighty-two equines from ADC units were auctioned on Nov. 19,

2011, raising $35,195, an average of $434.50 per horse. Proceeds from the sale went back into the farm's revenue fund. The sale helped thin ADC's 400plus herd and make way for new colts. The public had the opportunity to view and ride the horses Nov. 18. The horses sold in the auction included colts, mules and jacks that were retiring. While some were no longer suitable for the daily routine of prison work, they were perfect for weekend pleasure and trail riding. They ranged in ages from 2 to 20. Inmates from the Wrightsville and North Central Units participated as riders and wranglers for the auction, while ADC staff from across the state assisted with the event.

Paws in Prison kicks off in four ADC units

The Arkansas Department of Correction kicked off the new Paws in Prison program in December. The Randall Williams Correctional Facility, the Maximum Security Unit, the Ouachita River Correctional Unit and the A. J. Hawkins Center for Women and Central Unit are the North participating. Paws in Prison is made possible through agreements with animal shelters and advocate groups in the state. Selected inmates have the opportunity to become trainers of rescue dogs in the program. Inmates work with the dogs teaching them basic The Arkansas Department of Correction opened its state-of-the-art obedience skills and properly socializing the animals, making them more adoptable.

> The benefits of this program are three-fold. The Paws in Prison program will reduce the number of animals who perish by better preparing them to be loving, obedient and adoptable pets. The program will give inmates the skills necessary to support successful rehabilitation and reentry - and ultimately improve public safety. At the same time, this is an opportunity for the inmates do to something positive for the communities of Arkansas. Other states with similar improving

Arkansas Legislative Session passed Act 570

Act 570 of 2011 is designed to slow the growth of the inmate population in Arkansas prisons. The law has many components, but it primarily authorized revisions in sentencing guidelines, the hiring of new probation officers and implementation of programs aimed at slowing the revolving door of prisoners leaving and returning to prison. It also puts an emphasis on making sure programs offered to inmates are sound in structure and evidencebased, meaning success must be proven.

Prison libraries benefit from donations of books

ADC Library Services received more than 30,000 books due to the closing of a book store and libraries. ADC typically receives approximately 3,000 donated books each year, so the FY12 windfall will bolster book availability system-wide. As books become worn out and removed, some ADC libraries run short on titles and selection. The new supply of books will take time to process, but should alleviate this issue for a period of time.
