Annual Report

Arkansas Department of Community Correction

Director

For Arkansas Community Correction, FY2019 brought an even sharper focus on efficiencies, officer safety, and an unwavering commitment to lowering offender recidivism.

As the agency nears a full complement of data, we are hopeful the recidivism rate for the medium and high-risk offenders participating in ACC's Reentry Program will be considerably lower than for those released directly to the community from state prison. In guarded optimism, we believe a substantially reduced rate is possible.

Our six residential centers remain fully certified treatment centers and each boasts a recidivism rate well below the national average. The centers with female populations have rates below 25%, which ranks them among the lowest in the country.

For the more than 60,000 offenders under community supervision, we are committed to innovative programming and strategies aimed at helping them become productive members of the community. Despite a rapid growth in offender population, ACC has added Recovery Coaches, the agency's first Reentry Hub at the Parole/Probation Office in Fort Smith, and secured grant funding to establish technology-assisted treatment and recovery services in 15 rural counties.

As we move into FY2020, we are preparing for the transformation of state government and look forward to the new landscape. ACC is also working to renovate a large building in North Little Rock, which will become the ACC's central administration office.

We look forward to the challenges that lie ahead, and because of the outstanding employees at ACC, we are confident the agency will continue to excel in community corrections. Thank you for your continued support of ACC and its mission.

To attract and retain a competent, diverse workforce prepared to meet current and future needs of the agency.

Programs & Services

Parole and Probation

Community-based supervision that allows offenders to live at home under strict conditions. Parolees are granted a conditional release from prison prior to end of their prison sentence and are placed under ACC supervision. Probationers have been allowed by a judge to remain in the community under ACC supervision. All offenders are supervised based on their risk of re-offending as determined by the Arkansas Offender Risk Assessment (ARORA) and their need of programs. Throughout supervision, their risk levels can and often do change.

Specialty Courts

Specialty courts, run by the Administrative Office of the Courts and staffed with ACC supervision officers, include Drug Courts, Veterans Courts, HOPE, Alternative Sentencing and Swift Courts, and Mental Health Courts. These courts handle probation cases through intense and tailored supervision, monitoring, and treatment. Offenders receive outpatient and/or inpatient treatment and counseling and are subject to sanctions, frequent drug testing and court appearances.

Sex Offender Aftercare Program

This program uses a team approach to manage high risk sex offenders in the community. The team includes specialized supervision officers, aftercare coordinators, polygraph examiners, and voice stress analysts. The program's goal is to increase public safety and provide offender accountability.

Intensive Supervision Program

The ISP is a group of officers in Pulaski County that works closely with law enforcement to intensely supervise high-risk offenders.

Special Response Team

SRT are dedicated officers who work with local, state and federal law enforcement officers to find absconders who are parolees (and at times probationers) who are no longer reporting to their supervising officer as required by law.

Institutional Release Services

IRS is responsible for identifying when an inmate is eligible for parole consideration, scheduling the inmate for a parole hearing when eligible, working with inmates to develop an acceptable plan for housing post-incarceration and releasing those inmates approved by the Arkansas Parole Board.

Programs & Services

Community Correction Treatment Centers

Residential facilities offering structure, supervision, drug and alcohol treatment, educational and vocational programs, employment counseling, socialization and life skills programs, community work transition and other treatment programs.

Reentry Services

Reentry is a process that begins when offenders are incarcerated and ends when they are successfully reintegrated into the community as a law-abiding citizen. ACC's Reentry program provides resources and services to help offenders succeed after prison.

Volunteer Program

Volunteers provide services to parolees, probationers and offenders housed community correction centers. Volunteers are not paid, but provide vital services that greatly enhance the agency's services and opportunities for offenders.

Substance Abuse Program Leaders & Counselors

ACC employs Substance Abuse Program Leaders to provide substance abuse and co-occurring disorder services statewide. Services include outpatient substance abuse and mental health related counseling, life and social skills, employment readiness, health education, and referral services.

Accomplishments

- A collaboration with the Arkansas Department of Human Services Division of Aging, Adult and Behavioral Health Services resulted in funding from both the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration State Targeted Response to the Opioid Crisis and the SAMHSA State Opioid Response grants. The grants awarded $193,000 and $600,000 respectively to deliver Medication Assisted Treatment initiated in ACC centers and then continued in the community for up to four months after release. During the fiscal year, 186 residents consented to treatment; 29 were active in the program and one had completed the six-month program.
- ACC submitted nine applications in response to grant announcements and was awarded six competitive grants that range in size from $58,784 to $999,817. Opportunities for funding in response to the opioid crisis were the chief source of grant awards.
- The State Targeted Response to the Opioid Crisis grant includes funds for employment and transportation assistance. ACC began assisting the participants in September 2018 with job searches, resume building, and bus passes. The ACC Mentor Coordinator has connected the Medication-Assisted Treatment (MAT) participants with mentors during their transition back to the community.
- The largest grant funding came as a direct award from the Bureau of Justice Assistance, part of the U.S. Department of Justice, under the Comprehensive Opioid Abuse Site-based Program- Category 2 Technology-assisted Treatment. The grant allows ACC to provide technology-assisted treatment and recovery services in 15 rural counties.
- Treatment Services collaborated with UAMS and UCA on a telehealth grant that was awarded to UAMS in September 2018. The three-year grant operates the telehealth pilot program in West Memphis to research the effectiveness of telehealth services in rural areas.
- The Exodus Project graduated its first group of residents from the East Central Arkansas Community Correction Center. Exodus is a faith-based organization that works with ACC and area churches to provide residents in community correction centers programming that addresses hope and entrepreneurial opportunities for offenders returning to the community. Classes include life skills, making amends, and creating a career plan. Exodus has graduated 140 women and 340 men from ACC since 2015.
- The number of accounts in the Good Grid, ACC's online portal that connects offenders to jobs, services and assistance, has 13,884 inmate accounts and 63,018 supervision accounts.
- The new Find Good Transitional Housing Portal is in place on the Good Grid and is being used statewide to assist individuals with applying for transitional housing before release. The system makes the application process and housing acceptance faster and more efficient. The online application within Find Good has been implemented at all female facilities.
- ACC licenses eight Reentry Facilities that provide a six-month program for inmates who are six to 18 months from being paroled. Since August 2015, 1,341 inmates have graduated and 244 are currently in the program.

Accomplishments

- ACC licensed 21 transitional houses with 587 beds for inmates who have been granted parole but do not have a residence to return to in the community. ACC-funded beds average 380 per month, which equates to approximately 1,600 offenders annually.
- ACC licensed its first self-governed transitional house for offenders. The house is located in Northwest Arkansas and is a democratically run, self-supporting, and drug-free home.
- ACC implemented a Resident Sanctioning & Intervention Guide for use by the housing facilities that it licenses.
- Recovery Coaches are being used across the state as a result of an ACC and Restore Hope partnership. Currently there are 21 Recovery Coaches working with the parole/probation population and providing assistance with employment, housing, insurance, treatment, education, and transportation. The service is covered under the Arkansas Works Program. ACC also partnered with Restore Hope to connect offenders at the Omega Center with a Recovery Coach after release.
- Reentry Coaches are trained mentors who help reentry residents with housing, transportation, family reunification, financial obligations and staying sober. There are currently 74 active coaches.
- The Reentry Hub in the Ft. Smith Probation/Parole Office has five Recovery Coaches, a full time GED instructor, a full time Goodwill employment counselor, and a fulltime housing coordinator provided by Restore Hope all under one roof. There are 26 offenders currently enrolled; 85 have completed the Recovery Coach program and eight offenders have earned their GED. Goodwill served 817 clients in 2018 and placed 220 clients in employment with an average wage of $10.36/hour.
- The Rock City Reentry Grant partnership of ACC, Division of Workforce Services, and Our House focuses on education, employment skills, housing, family issues, antisocial attitudes, core values, risk of re-offending, and medical issues. The number of successful graduates with full time employment is 96, and 83 participants were enrolled by the end of the fiscal year.
- In major operations, officers in ACC's Sex Offender Aftercare Program completed compliance checks on 563 sex offenders. They searched more than 560 electronic devices the offenders had access to in an effort to find inappropriate material. The compliance checks resulted in 30 new felony charges being filed and 26 supervision violations. The charges included possession of child pornography, firearm possession, and drug possession.
- On Halloween 2018, a total of 1,058 sex offenders were subjected to home visits and/or lock-ins. A total of 97.6% of sex offenders were found to be in compliance at the time.
- From August of 2018 to the end of June 2019, ACC's Special Response Team in conjunction with other law enforcement agencies, has made 1,915 arrests that resulted in 1,968 felony charges and 1,018 misdemeanor charges. Seizures included:

Parole & Probation

Deputy Director - Jerry Bradshaw

Mission Statement:

To provide community supervision that promotes public safety, provides restitution to victims and rehabilitates the offenders into productive members of the community.

Goals and Functions:

To improve the quality of supervision, staff and public safety. To develop alternative sanctions to traditional prison for sentencing and releasing authorities, through a continuum of sanctions, programs and preventive services needed to effectively address behavior problems, risks and needs of offenders.

Functions:

The primary functions of Parole & Probation Services are community supervision, caseload management, enforcement of supervision conditions and local resource development. Parole & Probation Officers gather information, assess offenders' risks and needs, and address them appropriately through counseling, referral and the violation process.

Specialty Court - ACC supports specialty courts in Arkansas. There are courts for drug/alcohol abuse, mental health, veterans, Alternative Sentencing, and SWIFT/HOPE courts.

DRUG COURTS - ACC staffed 42 adult drug courts across the state that maintained a monthly average caseload of 2552 during the 2019 fiscal year. Drug Courts address addiction behavioral issues through a comprehensive team of professionals (judge, prosecutor, counselor, treatment provide, and supervision officer) who collaborate and facilitate activities of individuals through swift application of appropriate incentives, sanctions and services.

VETERANS COURT – There are 10 veterans' courts in Arkansas. ACC partners with the Veterans Administration (VA) where participants attend treatment and counseling and meet with a Parole/Probation Officer and receive drug screens. Offenders plead guilty and are placed on probation, required to attend court, submit to drug screens, meet with supervision officer and counselor, and attend group 12 times a month.

SWIFT COURTS and HOPE COURT - Serving six different counties in the state, these courts provide swift sanctions that are sure and certain. Supervision is highly structured with frequent office, home and community visits. Offenders are required to remain gainfully employed and to abstain completely from use of drugs and/or alcohol. Violations of conditions or non-compliance issues are addressed through imposition of immediate jail sanctions. They are applied by a graduated scale beginning with community service, a day in jail, more jail, or discharge from the program.

MENTAL HEALTH COURTS - There are two Mental Health Courts (Jonesboro, West Memphis) operated in conjunction with Mid-South Health Systems. These treatment-oriented courts target primarily misdemeanor probationers with 6 – 12 months' probation who have a psychosis disorder. The courts model drug courts and are presided over by a Circuit Judge.

Parole & Probation

ALTERNATIVE SENTENCING PROGRAM - The 13th Judicial District Prosecuting Attorney's Office (covering Calhoun, Cleveland, Columbia, Dallas, Ouachita and Union Counties) and stakeholders including SAU, SAU Tech, South Ark, South AR Regional Health Center, South AR Substance Abuse, law enforcement and others partnered to establish the evidence-based Alternative Sentencing Program. Established January 1, 2011, this pre-trial/non-adjudicated program requires court appearances and hearings, with the goal of reducing recidivism by 25%. It employs swift sanctions that are sure and certain on a graduated scale e.g. beginning with community service, a day in jail, more jail, or discharge from the program. At graduation, most participants will have their plea withdrawn or expunged. ACC staffs these courts which put emphasis on continuing education and employment skills.

Parole & Probation

Probation

Probation is a court-ordered alternative to prison where the offender remains in the community and is subject to conditions of behavior. The offender must report regularly to a probation officer. Violation of probation terms and conditions may result in revocation of probation, by the sentencing judge, where the offender may be sent to prison or a community correction center or have other sanctions imposed.

Parole

Parole is early release from state prison to community supervision. The parolee must follow strict conditions of release, which are set by the Parole Board and include reporting to a parole officer. A revocation hearing judge determines if a parolee violates their conditions of supervision and if re-incarceration in prison or a community correction center is appropriate.

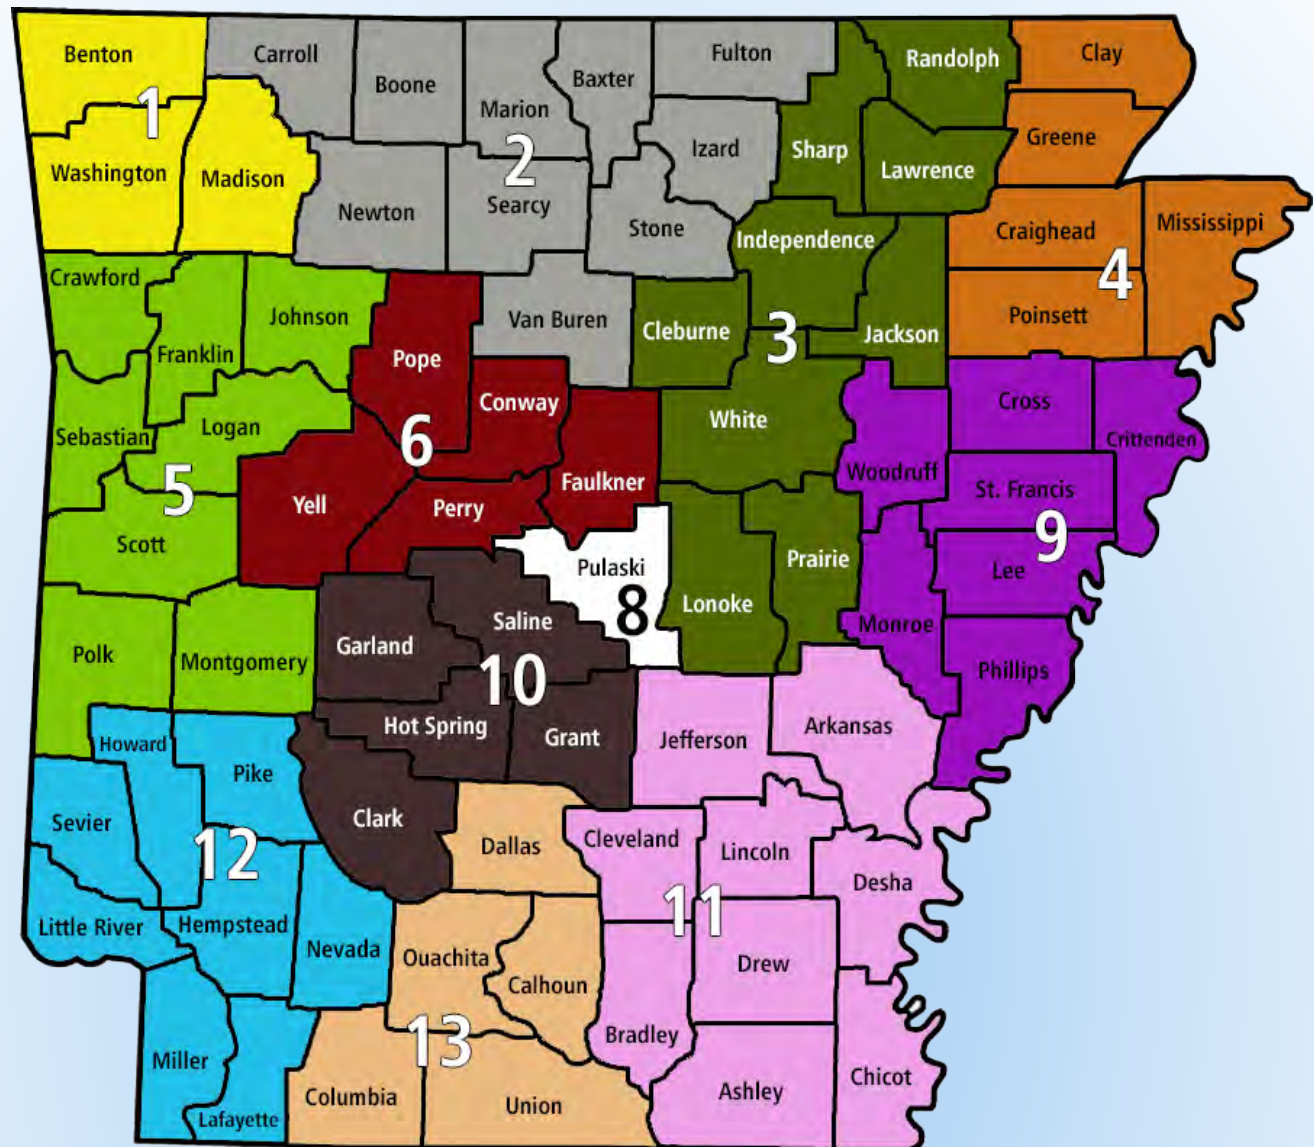

Parole & Probation Services

ACC employs Institutional Release Officers at each state prison and residential community correction center to manage the transfer of offenders from incarceration to parole supervision in the community. Parole/probation officers manage the offenders under supervision in the community.

Each offender is assigned a supervising parole/probation officer and office location for reporting. These offices are located throughout the state. ACC uses a comprehensive statewide case management system to assist in the supervision of offenders. Offenders are offered a wide variety of programming options to help decrease the likelihood of recidivating. Certified substance abuse program counselors provide treatment to offenders dealing with alcohol, drug, and tobacco use addiction. Offenders may also be referred by parole/probation officers to outside programs such as financial education, employment skills, anger management, life skills, and general education.

Parole and probation community-based supervision provides the opportunity for offenders to live and work in the community while completing the remainder of their sentence. Random drug screening is generally required and offenders are required to pay a supervision fee.

Residential Services

Deputy Director - James Banks

Mission Statement:

To return residents to the community and the workplace as productive, accountable and employable individuals, by providing tools to help offenders develop alternative lifestyles to crime, through training in life skills, chemical-free living, vocational and other job skills training.

Goals:

To provide effective and intensive residential community-based sanction in a therapeutic environment as an alternative to traditional prison. To improve the quality of security, employee safety, treatment of offenders and community protection.

Functions:

The Residential Services staff manage and operate regional community-based residential correctional programs designed to address issues surrounding the behavior which resulted in confinement or incarceration. These multipurpose, minimum security facilities encompass community service, discipline, behavior modification and various other self-improvement services.

What is an ACC Center?

The ACC operates five community-based, minimum security correctional facilities, and one Supervision Sanction Program facility solely for technical parole violators (multiple security levels) as alternatives to traditional prison. All residential facilities are ACA accredited. The correctional centers operate within a Modified Therapeutic Community modality and while in a Center, offenders are referred to as residents. The structure of these residential centers encompasses evidence-based programs, accountability, and behavior modification. Residents are sentenced or placed there by the courts or the Parole Board.

Residents receive intense programming aimed at reducing future criminal activity. The highly-structured programs include such services as drug/alcohol treatment, mental health treatment, educational and vocational programs, employment/life skills, community service, counseling, socialization, anger management, and community work transition.

To achieve behavioral changes, offenders are taught new concepts, values, and socialization skills. Staff is required to complete 160 hours of basic training and security and 40 hours refresher annually.

A Modified Therapeutic Community (MTC) features programs and services that are designed to allow an offender to reintegrate into the community with a goal of maintaining a crime free lifestyle. The community consists of both residents and staff. The community establishes values, norms, traditions and rules by which the residents live. As residents advance through treatment phases, they are assigned appropriate therapeutic jobs and progress through positions that will help them develop skills useful in resolving personal problems and making life-style changes. Throughout the process, emphasis is placed on discovering and resolving personal problems and being responsible and accountable for ones' behaviors.

Residential Services

The six residential centers are licensed as substance abuse treatment facilities by the Arkansas Department of Human Services Division of Behavioral Health Services' Office of Alcohol and Drug Abuse Prevention (ADAP). Treatment staff is fully credentialed as Certified Clinical Supervisors, Licensed Alcohol and Drug Abuse Counselors, Advanced Alcohol Drug Abuse Counselors, Certified Alcohol Drug Abuse Counselors, Certified Anger Management Specialists, Certified Co-Occurring Disorder Professionals, Certified Prevention Specialists, Certified Compulsive Gambling Counselors, and Certified Tobacco Treatment Specialists.

The ACC Residential Services Treatment Programs use A New Freedom Program, which is a comprehensive, evidence-based behavioral health and substance abuse curriculum.

Offenders with non-violent or non-sex related offenses may be ordered to a Community Correction Center (CCC) in one of three ways:

Judicial Transfer - The offender is sentenced to ADC with a transfer to incarceration at a CCC where the sentence is four years or less. Those who complete therapeutic programming may be released on parole, if approved by the Parole Board.

Probation Plus - Probationers may be ordered by the judge, as an added condition of their probation, to serve up to 365 days of incarceration at a CCC. Probation Plus offenders remain under the authority of the court and return to probation once they have completed their confinement.

Drug Court Short-Term Treatment - Offenders participating in a drug court program may be sanctioned by their judge to 30, 60, or 90 days of intensive drug treatment at a CCC. Drug court offenders remain under the authority of the court and return to drug court supervision once they have completed their confinement.

Drug court offenders may also be sanctioned by their Judge to incarceration at a CCC for up to 365 days.

Special Needs Program: A 60-bed male and an 86-bed female program within the centers for residents with co-occurring disorders. These offenders have histories of substance abuse and mental health and/or medical issues. The programs operate within modified therapeutic communities at the Southwest Arkansas Community Correction Center in Texarkana (male) and the East Central Arkansas Community Correction Center in West Memphis (female). The program is designed for long-term treatment, with an average completion of six to 12 months.

Omega Supervision Sanction Program

The Omega Center provides an alternative 90 to 180-day minimum treatment program for male offenders who commit technical parole violations, decreasing the number of parolees who are sent to ADC and held in county jails for technical violations.

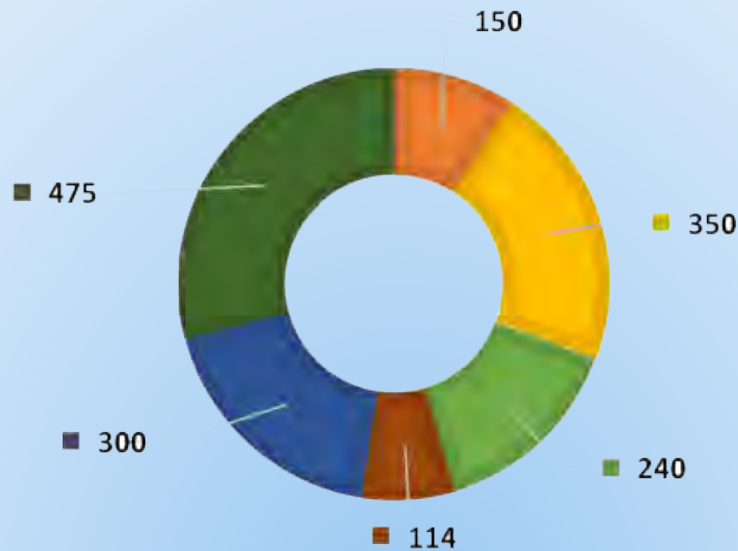

How is that different from prison or a jail?

Omega residents are held only 90 to 180 days as a sanction for violating parole – not as a sentence from a criminal court. The resident is assigned a counselor who works with him to identify his particular problems that hinder him from successfully completing parole. Residents attend classes on various programs, such as anger management, relationships, substance abuse, relapse prevention, job readiness and re-entry to name a few.
